Is Nervousness a Yankee Notion?

A New Theory by a New Doctor.

He Claims that Nervousness is an American Imaginative Disease,

And Originated in the United States Within the Last Fifty Years.

Let the Doctors Say Whether that Statement will Stand the Test.

Dr. Benson Says It Will Not; That Nervousness is as Old as Mankind,

AND THAT NERVOUSNESS HAS EXISTED EVER SINCE NERVOUS SYSTEMS WERE CREATED. NERVOUSNESS EXISTS UNDER MANY NAMES, AND APPEARS IN MANY FORMS OR TYPES,

As Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Sleeplessness, Paralysis, Hysteria, Melancholy, St Vitus' Dance, Asthma, &c. But all of these different forms are brought about by some present exciting cause. But no nervous system is subject to these diseases unless the nerve fluid is in an impoverished condition or suffering from an irritable state or condition, and can only be cured by a remedy that enriches the nerve fluid and allays nervous irritation, and this is absolutely accomplished by DR BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS. They effectually remove the causes of all nervous diseases, and the natural result is a cure—a complete and permanent cure.

DR C W BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS are prepared expressly to cure HEADACHES, Neuralgia and Nervousness, and will cure any case, no matter how obstinate it may be of either sick, nervous or dyspeptic head ache or neuralgia, nervousness or sleeplessness. Price 50 cents per box. Sent post free to any address or may be ordered through any druggist

Cuticura

HUMORS OF THE BLOOD, SKIN AND SCALP.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the most powerful Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant ever compounded. A forty minutes after taking the first dose it may be detected in the saliva, blood, sweat and urine, showing that it has entered the blood and been distributed throughout the entire system. In its passage through the circulating fluids it meets with the corrupted particles of matter which fester and maintain lesions with which it chemically unites, destroying and gradually eliminating them from the system.

Hence its power to forever expel Scrofulous, Cancerous and Cancer Humors, which unchecked fill the body with fatal corruptions, and rot out the delicate machinery of life.

Cuticura, the great external remedy for all Humors of the Scalp and Skin Diseases, Sores and Discharging Wounds, is the most soothing and healing of outward applications. It speedily destroys fungus and parasitic growths, restores the oil glands and tissues to a healthy condition and cures when assisted by the Cuticura Soap, Diseases of the Skin and Scalp which have been the torture of a life time.

SKIN DISEASES.

Great Suffering for Sixteen Years. A Wonderful Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

Messrs Weeks & Potter, Gentlemen,—Cuticura Remedies have done me a power of good. I have been afflicted with skin disease for sixteen years. Some days it troubled me more than others, but at night the itching nearly drove me wild. I would scratch until the blood would run down my limbs. I have had several physicians. Some said they could cure me, but others said not. I will say that before I used the Cuticura Remedies I was in a fearful state and had given up all hope of ever having any relief.

But, like a drowning man grasping at a straw, I thought I would try the Cuticura Remedies, about which I had read so much.

They have performed a wonderful cure for me, and of my own free will and accord I recommend them.

Yours truly A SHEEIG

THE FARMER'S GARDEN

The time for the singing of birds and planning of gardens has come, and we desire to call the attention of farmers to the value of the acre which all large landowners should devote to the cultivation of kitchen vegetables. We are satisfied that this can be made not only the most profitable acre on the farm, but one that will conduce most to the comfort of the family. The average farmer is apt to neglect this part of his estate, partly because he does not prize a vegetable diet at its true value, and partly because he regards work in the garden as "puttering business, fit only for women and children. We are not vegetarians ourselves, and are far from advocating an exclusively vegetable diet for others, and least of all for farmers. They are hard workers in the open air need hearty food, and can digest it better than those leading a sedentary life. Still, the old fashioned routine at the farm houses of fried pork for breakfast, boiled corned beef and pork for dinner, and the same cold for supper, with only potatoes and cabbage in the vegetable line, was a severe tax on the stomach of even the most robust, and often led to dyspepsia and fevers. That the Creator intended the diet of man to be mixed is manifest from his natural love of such a diet, the adaptation of his teeth, stomach and other organs for it, and the careful observation of the skilful physiologist. The wild Indian says, "Buffalo meat is enough and good enough for me but the average wild Indian is far from being a sample of a healthy man. As a race the Indians are subject to disease, and die young. The few old stalwarts only exemplify Darwin's idea of "the survival of the fittest". Besides, when the red man is brought within the pale of civilization, where he can get hold of fruits and vegetables, he devours them with a gusto which contradicts his talk about buffalo meat. The truth is that, while the vegetarians are a cadaverous looking set of men Dr Graham himself being no exception—and the blood of the meat gormandizers is in an inflammatory state, tending to violent passions as well as violent fevers, it is only the man who tempers the stimulating influence of meat with a liberal supply of fruits and vegetables who is blessed with health and the prospect of a green old age. The farmer who should feed his cows with corn meal mainly would be considered unwise if not insane, but he is no less foolish when he confines himself and family principally to a potluck diet, as many are inclined to do.

The other excuse which farmers offer for the neglect of their garden, "the puttering nature of the business" had some foundation when the garden was a little expensive affair, enclosed with a picket fence, in which there was little room for horse power, and more demand for the spade than the plough. The citizen and the villager must content themselves with such contracted gardens, but the farmer has land enough to make his garden as large as he pleases, and locate it where it can be cultivated with the same facility with which he cultivates his patch of potatoes. The notion that the kitchen garden must be under the kitchen window and surrounded with a picket fence to keep the hens out, was long since exploded by progressive farmers. It is very convenient to have the garden near the kitchen, and so it would be to have the pig pen, but there is no more necessity for the one than the other. Located in the field it can be cultivated by horse power, and its site be changed from time to time as the rotation of crops may require. The old fashioned mode of cultivating flowers and vegetables together, the former on borders of walks and the latter in little parallelogram-shaped beds, made the labor of a garden four fold what it is under the horse-power plan of long rows and no alleys. We spent no little time in our youth in one of these old fashioned gardens, and as we remember it, half the time was spent in hoeing out the walks and trimming up the borders. It was much work and little pay, and we do not wonder that farmers called it puttering work, and were disgusted with it. Still, this old style of gardening is not altogether obsolete. In closely settled villages there may be some excuse for a spade and hoe garden, but the farmer with land and horse power in abundance should garden on a more satisfactory plan. If he will only try this field gardening and see how easily and cheaply asparagus, beets and cabbages and the whole alphabet of vegetables are cultivated, we are confident that he will raise a score of bushels where he now raises one, and this with little, if any increase of expense. Any surplus of garden sauce will generally find a ready market, and thus materially add to the income of the farm. An acre cultivated in vegetables after the manner above indicated should yield a net income to the interest of a thousand dollars, and we have known one to make better returns than the interest at six per cent. of two thousand dollars.

One of the essentials to success in gardening is good seed. It is very vexatious to prepare land with care, and to find the plants to come up stunted and feeble for the want of constitutional vigor. The laws of heredity hold dominion over the vegetable kingdom with the same force as over the animal, and thoroughbred seed is as essential for a good crop as pure-blooded colts are for a good breed. It is not so easy to distinguish pure seed as pure stock, but there is the same virtue in the one as in the other, and the practiced eye can generally discern the pure from the mongrel.

Those with less skill must be careful to purchase of reliable seed growers. Fortunately all seed dealers are not cheats any more than are all milkmen. We have never failed of good crops of cabbages, onions and squashes when we have used pure seed. Some prefer to raise their own seed, but this is rather puttering business for farmers when they raise such a variety of vegetables as they ought. Seed growing is a trade by itself and the expert in the business will do better than a novice. For this reason we have procured our small seeds of late years, directly from the grower and knowing our man, have not failed in a single instance of good crop.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

WOODMAN, SPARE THAT TREE

Figures almost fail to convey an idea of the vast quantities of timber in all its forms that are called for every season. Carry a thoughtful eye with you for a few hours and note every thing made of wood. Then sit down for a half hour and try to bring to mind the thousand and one uses of wood that you know of which are not directly under your eye and you will then begin to have a faint idea of the value of the timber supply of our country. Indeed, it is not a wild estimate to say that the wood of all kinds, actually in use at the present time, would, if sawn into boards one inch thick completely cover one half the area of the United States. If it were all in round logs and piled up over the little State of Connecticut that State could put in a bid for nutmegs for the world and then be covered with wood four feet deep. In 1870 the lumber consumed in the United States was 12 703 513 000 feet, and the amount has greatly increased since that time. Why, the fences alone are valued at $1 800 000 000 and they cost each year $100,000,000. Then consider the building boards, the timber and girders for buildings and bridges and the railroad ties. Twenty millions of people are living in houses built of wood, and their barns and out buildings are of the same material, and we have 60 000 miles of railroad running over ties of wood.

Where does all this vast quantity of timber come from? It comes from a few thousand acres in northern New England, from the British Provinces and from a limited timber tract in the West and a still smaller one in the South. With a never ending demand, is the timber supply growing less? Are the acres of forest in the country fast decreasing? These are important questions. Upon the import of the answer hangs the key to the future development and prosperity of our nation. Without lumber we cannot build houses, factories, cities ships and railroads.

Does the supply keep up with the demand? For two hundred years in the history of the United States it has done so, but the end is drawing near. The acreage of forest is being cut away and destroyed by fire, and the timber upon that left standing is rapidly being thinned and used up. Twenty five years hence at the present rate of consumption lumber will have doubled in price, and in fifty years it will have more than quadrupled, and the supply will have been almost exhausted.

No matter how far-removed forest lands may be from cities and railroads, their value will ere long be such that transportation will be bound to reach them. Men have grown rich during the past fifty years by holding timber lands and the chances are doubly great for fifty years to come.

Land covered with timber of any kind is far too valuable for agricultural purposes. If it is far removed from cities or railroads and is poor and rocky, as much of the timber land of New England and the West is to-day, a farm of a hundred acres of it cleared of its timber, would be worthless than a thousand dollars, while if covered with timber, it would be a low est mate to put it at twenty dollars an acre, and it might be worth a hundred—depending entirely upon the size and quality of the timber. Ten years hence, his hundred acres of land if covered with fair sized timber, would be worth, according to the wildest progressications of the future value of timber at least twenty times as much as the naked soil is now worth. A tract of rocky soil that has grown up to underbrush had far better be left alone than be troubled with the axe again, for ten years time will cover it with growth of fuel at least.

If our forests were protected by the government as they are in many countries of the Old World it would be a good point gained towards saving us from a fuel famine, but the owners of timber lands have the power in their own hands. To them the nation will look for the protection of her forests. To the other they should say. There is a vast amount of room for you on the prairies of the West. Leave my timber lands alone. You would cut down far more value than you could ever produce, and your fires would endanger millions more.

The few States that now own timber lands should protect them as an heritage of vast importance to future generations. Such lands are important as a public investment, and in a few years will pay off a burden of debt, if simply let alone and allowed to increase in value. Government land covered with timber should be a sacred property held by the nation for the value of what there is now upon it. A National Park should include in National Forest, and all the Government timber lands in the United States are a tract none too large.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

The Counting-out Conspirators.

Their Defiance of Public Opinion.

Everywhere we see evidence that the counting-out conspirators not only propose to make the Fusion party bear the whole weight of their infamy, but they arrogantly assume control and demand to be kept at the head and front of the party in the coming campaign We are informed that a short time ago some one said to Fogg that the leaders of the Democratic and Greenback parties would disenfranchise him and his fellow abolitionists to the rear, as too heavy a load for any party to carry Fogg is said to have contemptuously replied that he and his associates intended to run the machine and that they had such abundance of letters from their leading party men urging them on to the State's end that the latter would not dare to attempt to abandon the counting out Councillors His view appears to have been well founded for the leaders in the counting out frauds now ostentatiously run the Fusion party machine

This challenge of public opinion has been especially conspicuous in the case of ex Councillor Foster of this city who left the State just as the scandalous work of counting out had been completed and who remained away during the whole investigation of the gigantic frauds by which the Garcelon Council sought to steal control of the State. In advance of his return he sent forward in the Boston Post an insulting charge of Republican corruption in Maine, and only a day or two before his arrival in this city the Commercial urged that his reception here should be such as to indicate approval of his official course

As that is to be the programme, and as ex Councillor Foster and his newspaper champion insist that the counting out business was gloriously honorable, it seems proper to refresh the public memory with the confession made by ex-Councillor Foster in his letter to his chief in the conspiracy written shortly after his arrival in Chicago. That letter is so comprehensive and conclusive in its exhibition of the conscious ness of the character of the work in which its writer had been engaged, that it needs no comment We let it speak for itself accompanied by Gorham L Boyn ton's briefer endorsement of the work of Garcelon, Foster & Co

CHICAGO Dec 23 1879

DEAR GOVERNOR

I have just arrived here 10 A M , I find the political situation in Maine is the prevailing topic of conversation everywhere The action of the Governor and Council is generally misunderstood everyone getting their idea of the matter from the Associated Press despatches

I regret to say that I am afraid that we are not fully sustained even by the Democrats and only two parties seem to be recognized, viz' Republicans and Democrats The position we assume, and know to be right that the Governor and Council act in the matter of canvassing the returns, as a judicial body and have not equity powers is not fully understood It is rather supposed by people generally that it is simply ministerial or clerical IT MUST BE ADMITTED THAT AS A PARTY WE ARE IN AN UNPLEASANT POSITION

I am afraid that unless some compromise is made that we shall suffer next year The way out of the dilemma honorable to us as a party and especially to the Governor and Council is a question which has been CONSTANTLY UPON MY MIND since I saw you on Saturday I assume and fully believe that our action as Governor and Council must be sustained by law. (!!!) That the position we have taken of what our duties are is the correct one, and the only safe one to be followed, and that those who condemn us now will hereafter approve our course and strictly adopt it in the matter of creating the returns IT WILL HAVE THE EFFECT TO EDUCATE THE PEOPLE TO THE IMPORTANCE OF MAKING LEGAL RETURNS

But we say the Legislature has full equity power, and that they can exercise it without reflecting in the least upon our action WE FULLY UNDERSTAND (if we do not take into account the frauds which are said to have been committed in the election) THAT THE REPUBLICANS WOULD HAVE HAD THE ORGANIZATION OF THE LEGISLATURE, if the returns had been legal, that equity gives them the advantage Would it not be right and also politic, looking to the future of the party, for the Legislature to exercise that power which we did not possess, and feel equitably? This then in brief is what I would suggest, viz

Let those to whom the Governor and Council have issued certificates take their seats and organize the Legislature by electing as President of the Senate whoever the Republicans nominate, let them have the minor offices of the Senate, let the Opposition have the organization of the House. Let Mr. Davis' name be one of two that shall be sent up to the Senate for the candidates for Governor; and let the Senate elect Mr. Davis, give THREE of the seven Councillors to the Republicans, and DIVIDE THE STATE OFFICES AS NEARLY EQUAL between the parties as possible Let the Representatives of cities which were deprived of their seats by the illegality of their returns be admitted, and let the committees be made up of the best men of both parties with reference to the important business of the Session and not to politics. (!!) In following substantially this plan we will go to the people next year and I believe receive their verdict of approval

I assume, of course, that the Legislature would carry out such a programme if requested by the opposite candidates for Governor. I have no doubt they would do so, at any rate so far as the office of Governor is concerned, it is in the hands of the opposing candidates If you and Mr. Smith and Mr. Bradbury should confer and the views expressed, you could of course COMPEL such a result.

WITHOUT SOME COMPROMISE I SEE BEFORE THE OPPOSITION AN OVERWHELMING DEFEAT NEXT YEAR It seems to me some such compromise as I suggest could be regarded as honorable, and in view of the important business to be transacted by the Legislature the coming winter, it is of great importance. I hope you will not consider me as imposing my views upon you, but receive what I have said as prompted on my part by an honest desire TO GET OUT OF OUR DIFFICULTY in an honorable way.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) J. B. FOSTER.

BANGOR Dec 31st 1879

HON ALONZO GARCELON

Dear Sir

Allow me to congratulate you on your eminent success in defending your position in regard to the examination and tabulation of the returns. Your opponents have been foiled at every point and I think you may rightfully consider yourself the master of the situation We now have our opponents in the wrong and I hope nothing will be done to give them an advantage in position! It has been said by some that it might be necessary to call out the Militia I sincerely hope that this will not be necessary every other means should be exhausted before resorting to that

Having full confidence in your WISDOM and PRUDENCE and that of your constitutional Advisers,

I am
Yours

THE RETRENCHMENT BUSINESS.

After meditating upon the matter for several days, the Bangor Commercial has concluded that it cannot find time to answer nor space to publish our article on "Retrenchment and Reform" but that paper disposed of it yesterday in these words

We shall not wallow through such a mess of figures and delusions.

This is a very abrupt though exceedingly convenient method of getting rid of stubborn facts in the presentation of which we showed clearly that the fusion claim that they are the party of "retrenchment and reform," is a delusion and a de

Without attempting to touch even the margin of our article by way of reply to the facts and figures we presented, the Commercial makes this statement:

"The Republican Legislature received the State under more favorable auspices than did the Fusion Legislature It has appropriated over $200 000 less than the appropriations for 1879, yet it has increased the State tax $220,000, and will probably make a temporary loan of $300 000 more"

The "more favorable auspices" under which the Republicans received the State Government were these The fusionists failed to have the manhood to make a State tax sufficient to meet the demands upon the treasury and when the Republicans took the government they found that the tax imposed by the fusionists lacked just $87,843 of paying the expenses of the fusion government of 1879

Very favorable auspices indeed! The fusionists had not only drawn every cent of every appropriation but they left as a legacy to the Republicans bills to pay amounting to $87 843 The Republicans were of course obliged to meet this demand, as well as the $40,000 it cost for the fusion steal, and other extraordinary expenditures aggregating $90 000, and they did it with an appropriation bill less by $20 000 than the appropriation bill of the fusion Legislature of 1879. Or, in other words, had it not been for the careless and extravagant rule of the fusionists and their base criminal transactions, the appropriation this year, under Republican rule would have been $120,000 less than that of last year, under fusionrule, and the State tax would have been correspondingly decreased! Does the Commercial understand that?

Another word In regard to the Commercial's reference to a temporary loan of $300 000 we have this to say Is the editor of that paper so ignorant of recent legislative proceedings as not to know that this sum is not raised for current expenses? The sum of $307,000 the Legislature authorized to be raised in 6 per cent bonds to pay the $307 000 of public debt that comes due in August And as the debt was incurred to liquidate a portion of the expenditures of the Democratic rebellion, Democratic newspapers ought to be very modest in referring to it. Has the Commercial any more figures to present? Perhaps it can give us the items of the expenditure of that six thousand dollars that Garcelon drew from the State Treasury the last day of his administration, how it is that a fusion Councillor can draw $7> for travel for July 20, 21 and 22, when he is in Augusta every hour of the three days; and then, if it has time, tell us what became of the $1,000 which Mr. Swan says he received last winter If it cares to go into details it might enlighten us. concerning Attorney General McLellan's charges for hotel and back fares It is unfortunate in attempting to grapple with the more serious matters of State finances and had better confine itself to these.

THE ILLINOIS DELEGATES

Despatches received in Washington Monday night from ex Congressmen C B. Farwell and Gen Stephen A. Hurlbut, confirm the completeness of the anti Garfield victory The Cook County Convention consisted of 191 delegates and of these only 57 were for Grant, and it was this small minority that withdrew. The regular convention chose 58 Washburne and 33 Blaine delegates to the State Convention. Gen Hurlbut says this makes the delegates to the State Convention as far as elected stand Blaine 251, Grant 233, Washburne 91 He says Blaine has already carried five Congressional Districts outside of Chicago, giving him 10 delegates to the National Convention, and that with gains expected he will have no less than eleven Districts with 22 delegates outside of Chicago Whether the Grant men fail or succeed in controlling the State Convention in his own State, it is obvious that the strong opposition developed in Illinois is disastrous to the third-term movement

Those of our citizens contemplating availing themselves of the privilege of making the excursion to Chicago, on the occasion of the Republican National Convention, should consult with Col. A B Farnham, member of the Executive Committee of the Blaine Club, who will be pleased to furnish the details of the arrangements. Col. Farnham has a plan of the Wagner sleeping cars on which he can assign berths to those desiring them. The Wagner cars will be taken at Boston. Quite a number of the prominent Republicans of Bangor have signified their intention of attending the convention. The route will embrace a trip to Niagara Falls, which will be a pleasing incident of the excursion.

POTATOES. The potato crop is our "best hope," and Aroostook farmers are preparing for increased acreage this year. It is the best paying crop cultivated, and although the price may seem low, compared with that paid two years ago, when the cost of raising a bushel of potatoes is less than fifteen cents, and the price paid twenty-five to forty, it does not require much figuring to find the profit. Our advice is to prepare for a large crop, which will be wanted at remunerative prices. Prepare.

A permanent society was formed with Rev. A W. Burr, President, and Prof H W. Hall, Secretary and Treasurer

THE DRIVES C D. Bryant Esq, clerk of the Mattawamkeag Log Driving Company, received a postal card from Bancroft Bridge, written under date of 10th inst containing the following information Our rear of the first drive was at Sluggundy dam this morning at eight o'clock The driving is hard as the water has already fallen some six feet at the dam and is still falling fast The brook drives are coming rather slow Palmer is not out of the Molunkus yet Fred Webster will pass the Military road to-day. Atwell's logs are arriving at Molunkus bridge A crew went back this morning to open the Jellyson boom

A DESPERATE ASSAULT A man named John Burton, of Holden was arraigned in the Police Court Monday, for making a desperate assault on his nephew, William Burton. It appeared at the trial that the two men had a quarrel at the house of the latter, Saturday, during which the old man seized a hammer and struck his nephew a stunning blow in the face The blow literally smashed the victims nose and rendered him insensible for a long time A warrant was obtained and placed in the hands of Constable Moor, of Brewer, who brought the elder Burton before His Honor Judge Goodenow, and he was bound over, to the August term in the sum of five hundred dollars.

A DELIGHTFUL EXCURSION Arrangements are now being made for an excursion to Coney Island, West Point and New York city about the sixth of July W. E Brown, Esq, who has so successfully managed similar excursions during the past few years, has the matter in charge and will soon be able to give the public full particulars concerning this trip. It is proposed to start from this city Tuesday morning and return the following Saturday evening. The excursionists will go by the Fall River Line of steamers, up the Hudson on the splendid day boats, pass three hours at West Point, all day at Coney Island and a day at New York. Mr Brown informs us that the price of tickets will be exceedingly low, and will include lodgings or not, as the purchasers desire.

MAINE BOYS AT YALE. At the coming Commencement at Yale College the following students from Maine will graduate: W. E. Decrow, of Bangor, W. B. Ferguson of North Dixmont; W. A. Purington, whose father is a Free Baptist clergyman at Vinalhaven, Mr. Purington was two years in Bates College and entered the Junior class at Yale. He passed a portion of his boyhood in Aroostook. These three have worked their way through college, stand well in their class and are very popular. C. A. Holbrook, of North Auburn, and Samuel Sewall, of Bath, also graduate with this class. We learn that the Maine students stand well in the college, also Sophomore class, are close students, as is also young Lynde, of Rockland, of the Freshman class. These young men have and will maintain a high stand. Few give better promise of a brilliant future than they.

ORGAN CONCERT. The audience that gathered in the First Baptist church, last evening, to listen to the organ concert, was small, but very appreciative. The artists were drawn wholly from home talent, and the charming concert demonstrated anew the fine musical ability we have in our midst Mr F S. Davenport and Miss Kate E. Stewart, by their artistic touch unfolded the wonderful powers of the organ. Miss Nettie Trundy and Mrs E T Waggatt, who are justly reckoned in the list of Bangor's sweetest singers, shared in the favors bestowed by the audience in generous applause. The voice of one compliments that of the other, and both together they form a combination of sweetness rarely excelled Mr. Geo T Moody's elegant bass gave expression and emphasis to his selections, while Messrs Sibley and Dinsmore fully sustained their previous good reputation as singers The parts that were conspicuously pleasing were the song "The Crucifix," by Miss Trundy, and the Solo by Mrs. Waggatt

FOR THE LADIES. The Russian blouse waist will probably be worn this summer Sensible boots and slippers are better than those with high heels Some of the new white dresses are flounced to the waist with Hamburg embroidery Flounces on the underskirt are preferred to any other method of distending the dress skirt. "Colbert lace, which has hitherto been almost monopolized by the children, is worn by ladies this year. Slippers with a great many straps are not so fashionable this summer as those that have one bow. Pearl small buttons with a crushed fly on the top are too ugly to grow common, but they are fashionable. Classic satin is a new kind of dress material, a little more lustrous and a little stiffer than satin merveilleux Dresses of shirred Indian muslin trains of white satin are considered among the most handsome of those made for evening Single, with fringe is cheaper than double, for it is two-thirds as wide and costs only one half as much The proper trimming for the Languedoc lace Small plaited gimps set inside square-necked woolen dresses, the gimps being of the same material as the gown, and the folds are ironed very flat and are very fine

CITY AFFAIRS

A special meeting of the City Council was held last evening, and upon the communication of J H Pope accepting the offer of the city to sell the B & P Railroad for the sum of $500,000, an order was passed appointing a committee consisting of the Mayor pro tem, President of the Common Council, City Treasurer, City Solicitor, Charles P Stetson, Moses Giddings and James B. AMUSEMENTS

Haverly's Minstrels.

Seats may be secured at Bugbee's on and after this morning for the entertainment on Friday and Saturday evenings next by Haverly's Genuine Colored Minstrels. The Boston Advertiser says

"It certainly was not by reason of remarkably favorable weather that the Boston Theatre was crowded last evening. But 'standing room only,' and not much of that, was all that late comers could get on the lower floor, and there was no beggarly array of empty benches in the upper circles, either. 'It's Haverly luck,' said a theatrical man in the lobby. The attraction was Haverly's genuine Colored Minstrels, and the entertainment they gave was particularly good. Throughout the performance there was not the slightest lapse from good taste, and the entertainment may be commended as the quintessence of Ethiopian melody and Ethiopian fun."

Lotta.

As we predicted, there has been an enormous sale of tickets for the Lotta entertainment. The seating capacity of the house will be put to a severe test, and standing room will undoubtedly be at a premium. A few seats may still be obtained at Bugbee's, and those not wishing to stand, should make early application. Lotta sails for England on the 28th inst

West Waterville Items.

Our correspondent G. writes The Keller Quartette will give a concert here on Wednesday evening, the 12th inst., when Mr. D. M. Teague, the sculptor, and accomplished violin soloist, will appear in several numbers. This will be the first appearance here in concert of this quartette, though they have filled two engagements under the auspices of the Methodist Society, both being readings by the favorite elocutionist, Miss Laura E. Crawford.

We were visited by two very severe thunder showers—one Sunday evening about six o'clock, and the other early Monday morning. The "oldest inhabitant is up a stump" for a parallel storm in this latitude. Considerable damage was done in this vicinity. The house of A. G. Hicker, in the suburbs of our village, was struck by lightning, the bolt first striking a fir tree in front of the house. Damage to house and furniture, from one to two hundred dollars; no fire. The barns of Mr. Lamiston Lowe and L. K. Hutchinson, of Sidney, a few miles from this village, were both struck by lightning and destroyed by fire.

Messrs. Benjamin & Allen have the frame of their new foundery erected; the expect it to be ready for occupancy in two weeks.

Messrs. Emerson, Stevens & Co have also begun on the frame of the addition to their scythe and axe shop. Many additions and changes are being made in residences here this spring, all tending to improve the appearance of the village as well as to better accommodate the owners

THE MOTHER'S LULLABY.

BY MISS C H WATERMAN

Sleep baby love sleep—there are angels above
That watch o er thy slumbers, my own little dove,
And I know by the smiles that steal over thy brow,
Thy dreams are of heaven and happiness now.

Thus cradled before me, my innocent child,
With thy cheeks peachy blossoms, thy heart un defiled,
With the rays of glad sunlight beneath thy shut eyes
Oh how can they spare those from yonder blue skies?

They sent thee my darling to this world of ours,
With the soft gales of summer and perfume of flowers
They gave to thy mother thine angel-like form,
As a rainbow of promise in life s dreary storm.

Smile on in thy slumber, my lovely and fair,
A mother's warm kiss parts thy golden hued hair,
A mother's fond eyes o er thine innocent sleep
Their unwearied vigils of watchfulness keep.

Sleep, Baby love, sleep, and when years shall go by
Mine own a fver head on that pillow may lie
And those fingers shall part the white locks on my brow,
That clung to my own in their helplessness now

The ripe fruit shall fall when the harvest is best,
And the green leaf must perish when yellow and sear
But thou, my young blossom, wilt flourish and grow
When the storms o life s winter the tree hath laid low

Sleep baby love, sleep—may that smile s sunny beam
S ill lighter th its halo shine angel bonds dream
And holy and calm be thy slumbers of even
For of such as thou art, is the king lom of heaven
